

Speaking Part 3 – simulated situation

- 1) Car or bike – Imagine you should write an essay in a test at school and you should discuss when to use a bike or a car. Think of the aspects why and when to use a car or bike and of the advantages of each vehicle.

- 2) Save energy – you start a project at school – you should argue how people can save energy effectively. Here are some aspects how to save energy – start with the cheapest one.

- 3) Spending a year abroad – you would like to spend a year abroad – try to convince your parents why you have to spend a year abroad – what do you think is the most important aspect if you spend a year abroad?

- 4) Join a drama club – you are a member of a drama club – but of course you're always lacking of new members! So try to convince your classmates why to join a drama club – combine your points in the order that you start with the weakest point to the strongest one!

- 5) Travelling in a camper van – your friends always spend their holidays either in expensive hotels or in their own holiday home! Try to convince them why it is better to travel in a camper van!
Organize your arguments like that: start with the weakest one and get to the strongest.

- 6) Joining a choir – imagine you are a member of a choir – of course you always need members to sing louder :O)!
Convince your classmates to join a choir – organize your arguments like that: start with the weakest one and end with the strongest.

7) Relatives and friends – why is it better to have friends and not only relatives or is it vice versa?! Discuss the aspects and come to a conclusion – consider all the aspects given.
